

Everything SoCal: YOU CAN GET THERE from here.

Not all deserts are made the same. Certainly not the place that's home to Eisenhower Health. We're a Magnet®-recognized hospital and one of the coolest places to work if you're looking to advance your career and enhance your life with the Southern California lifestyle.

DRIVE YOURSELF INTO a state of bliss

Far from a lonely desert outpost, Eisenhower Health is located in Rancho Mirage amid California's vibrant Coachella Valley. It's an island of beauty unto itself. But more important for Eisenhower Health nursing candidates, it's also a booming hub that lets you head out and make the most of the west coast, then easily be back—rested and refreshed—for the next day's shift.

GET INTO THE great outdoors

Should you ever tire of local activities like tennis, swimming, yoga, Pilates and world-class golf—all of which are readily available throughout the Coachella Valley, you actually don't need to drive far to broaden your options. The San Jacinto Mountains offer some of the best sub-alpine hiking in the state. Or skiers can pile in the car and be carving through fresh powder in no time at nearby Snow Summit or Bear Mountain resorts. Eisenhower Health is also an easy drive away from one of the most impressive landscapes on the planet: Joshua Tree National Park.

GO Hollywood

Jump in the car and within about two hours you can be right in the middle of the magic. Stroll down Hollywood's Walk of Fame to see your favorite stars emblazoned right on the sidewalk. Catch a movie at iconic Mann's Theater, which practically invented the red-carpet treatment. See how movies are made at Universal Studios.

ENJOY HAUTE CUISINE & hot club action

With restaurants like Le Vallauris, Morton's and Mastro's, or spots like The Nest and the Copa Room, there's no shortage of places to go near Eisenhower Health. A quick Uber ride home and you'll be ready to face your Monday with a smile. L.A.'s restaurant scene is renowned throughout the world, and offers a dizzying array of choices to suit any palate and pocketbook. The "L.A. Dinner Drive" is definitely a thing here at Eisenhower Health.

SHOP TILL you drop

Southern California also has a shopping experience for every whim, budget and stamina level, many close to your new home at Eisenhower Health. If you have high-end tastes (and a high credit limit) you can shop like a god on fabled Rodeo Drive in Beverly Hills, or skip the drive and cruise the luxe-lined avenue of El Paseo in nearby Palm Desert.

KICK IT ON the beach

If kicking it on the sand is more your speed (and you somehow get burnt out on all the Rancho Mirage pool parties), you're a mere hour and a half away from the picture postcard that is Laguna Beach in Orange County, or Huntington Beach farther up the coast. Reminder: when you're packing your things to come to Eisenhower Health, be sure to throw in a pair of Ray-Bans® and flip-flops.

COME TO EISENHOWER HEALTH— for better days on and days off!

So, the next time Eisenhower Health comes to mind—and it should be top-of-mind if you're looking to accelerate your career, don't think 'desert.' Think oasis. A place to revitalize yourself. A rewarding destination on your nursing journey, and a launching point for enjoying everything Southern California has to offer.
